COUNCIL SPEEDS "CALLAN PARK" MOVE

Decision On Freeway May Be Imminent

Recommendation on the freeway route the State Highway Division's San Francisco office prefers for Daly City may be announced this Thursday by J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer.

Daly City officials will attend the State Highway Commission meeting in Oakland, where the matter may be discussed, according to City Manager Edward Frank.

Sinclair several weeks ago said he would have an announcement about the north county route on March 24. Frank, however, said he wasn't sure if the Highway Commission, meeting two days this week in Oakland, would even get to the Daly City problem during the Oakland sessions. Usually, Frank explained, the Highway Commission takes the district engineer's recommendations under advisement, then sets up another meeting prior to final adoption deliberations.

The city manager said City Attorney Paul Hupf, who presented Daly City's official council stand for the Junipero Serra freeway routing, would accompany him and city councilmen to Oakland.

The Daly City council was unanimous for the Y-T Junipero Serra route and has asked for modifications to avoid uprooting any homes to make room for east-west laterals off the north-south route. The city's position is in line with state proposed Route 2 on Junipero Serra. Route 2 also meets the approval of the County Planning Commission in its Master Plan projections.

ALERT POLICE VET THWARTS RAPE ATTEMPT

Police Officer Matthew Murray of Daly City returned home from a quiet evening of work last Sunday just in time to stop a man from assaulting a 30-year-old Daly City woman.

Murray, who works the swing shift from 4 p.m. to midnight, alighted from his car at 12:40 a.m. He thought he heard a scream in the 100 block of Vista Grande avenue. Peering up the street Murray at first thought two juveniles were playfully "fooling around."

When he heard a second muffled scream, Murray ran about a half block and found the woman and 25-year-old Josea Lyman Stevens, 1515 Underwood street, San Francisco, struggling on the ground.

Stevens had placed his hand over the woman's mouth, stifling her screams and pulled her to a vacant lot behind a building located at 6598 Mission street.

Murray drew his revolver and ordered Stevens to place his hands against the wall. The woman, semi-hysterical, cried over and over, "Thank God, you've come."

The officer marched Stevens to Mel's Bar, 6582 Mission street, and had patrons call the station. Officers Ralph Warren and Jim Doran then transported the suspect to the police station.

The woman said she was returning from a show. She had gotten off the bus at the top of the hill (Mission and Bepler streets) and walked towards Vista Grande avenue. Stevens came from behind and grabbed her. She screamed when he warned her, "Be quiet or I'll shoot you. I've got a gun."

He didn't, but a four-inch knife was found on him by police. The officers booked him for attempted rape and for carrying a knife.

Asked about his behavior, Stevens answered Murray: "You saw what happened."

Stevens admitted grabbing the woman and pulling her into the shed, but he denied he tried to molest her.

Employed as a janitor around Millbrae, Stevens said he was en route to work just prior to the incident.

Assembly Committee Approves $200,000 For Thornton Beach

Allocation of $200,000 to develop Thornton Beach west of Daly City was approved last week by the Assembly Ways and Means Subcommittee in Sacramento.

State Senator Richard J. Dolwig announced that "this latest step virtually assures passage of this item." A senate subcommittee okayed a similar measure earlier.

Building of an access road to replace one washed out four years ago by heavy storm drainage will be a primary purpose of the allocation. Also to be constructed are parking, picnic and restroom facilities.

Thornton Beach development progress has resulted from an intensified local drive, spearheaded by the Daly City council, Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association, and county officials.

Cops Locate Missing Man From W'lake

Daly City police closed a year-old case of a missing person last Wednesday when Martin Steinberg, 22, 180 North Mayfair avenue, Westlake, was picked up by FBI agent A. C. Miller for failure to register under the Selective Service Act.

Local police received the report that Steinberg, using the alias of Robert D. Hoffman, was apprehended and held in custody by the U. S. Marshal's office in Los Angeles.

Captain Roy Beecher of Daly City said there could be no criminal action filed against Steinberg here. Steinberg, along with his wife Patricia, reportedly mortgaged the North Mayfair home for $10,000 last April. Steinberg at that time told his wife that the $10,000 was to go for a business venture on Mission street, but then he disappeared.

Beecher said any action here would be civil. It would be up to the housewife to take the matter to court to have a judgment on the community property. She filed for divorce a number of months back, Beecher said.

BROADMOOR EPISODE

Chief Ray Savage Wins Daily Double, Collects A Bookie

Police Chief Ray Savage of Broadmoor, 'feeling' out a suspected bookie house at 1512 Edgeworth avenue, made a number of bets to see if the anonymous tip he received was factual. The amazing part about it was that the chief won the daily double in the process.

Mack Rosen, 55, who set up shop about three blocks away from the Broadmoor police station, was hauled in. Needless to say, he didn't pay the chief the winning amount, nor would the chief accept it.

The Edgeworth avenue residence was under surveillance for a week. Police, armed with a search warrant, kicked the door in at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. They found Rosen at the phone allegedly taking bets.

The three inspectors from the district attorney's office, Savage and Broadmoor officer Charles Manning estimated that Rosen was doing a $200 to $300 a day business. The policemen also accepted a few bets from Rosen's side of the line to make the case more binding.

Rosen had been arrested earlier in San Francisco on similar charges, but he was released due to insufficient evidence, Savage revealed.

The Rock Pile For Brick Pile Thief?

The story goes that three little pigs started out with straw and wood and then switched to bricks. Mrs. Mary Ann MacFarland, 217 St. Francis boulevard, is being disturbed by culprits who want to start right out with bricks.

She told Officer Charles Munday that 700 bricks valued at $107 have been stolen from her brick pile. She reported the thefts Monday, noting that the raider has been taking a few at a time during the past week.

DA Rules Two Civic Posts 'Compatible'

Jefferson Elementary District trustees Monday night read a letter form District Attorney Keith Sorenson in which he gave his official opinion on whether a school trustee could also hold the job of city treasurer.

The board had consulted Sorenson because trustee chairman Joseph Lewkowitz is a candidate for the Daly City treasurer's position.

In part, Sorenson's reply read: "It would appear extremely remote that the individual here concerned (in the capacity of city treasurer) would ever find himself in a position which is sufficiently discretionary in nature that it would enable him to actually negotiate in matters of policy with a school district."

"In any negitiations with your district by the city of Daly City," it continued, "said district would necessarily deal with the city council and not with the city treasurer."

Ex-Husband Booked Here As 'Prowler'

An estranged husband who attempted to visit his former wife by entering her Westlake home through a basement window was halted by Daly City police Monday about 9 p.m. and booked as a prowler.

Officers Matthew Murray and Richard Sims were summoned by Barbara Karpen, 42, 20 Park Manor drive, who said that someone was trying to break into the residence.

Murray and Sims located Arnold W. Karpen, 38, on the run in a passageway and attempting to scale a rear fence. They shouted for him to halt, and he did, admitting the break-in attempt and said he "merely wanted to talk to her."

The report said the Karpens were divorced two years ago.

The ex-hubby, who lives at 344 Fourth street, San Francisco, was released on $52.50 bail.

Council, Planners Meet Next Week

The city council of Daly City will meet at 7 p.m. Monday for a study session prior to their regular meeting at 8 o'clock in City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

The city planning commission will hold public hearing on Master Land-Use Plan changes next Tuesday evening at City Hall, starting at 8 o'clock.

4-1 DECISION CLOSES HEARING

School Officials Lead Protests, Cite Costs Annex Would Create

A 4-1 vote of the Daly City council Monday night closed the public hearing on Callan Company's petition for annexation of their proposed multi-million dollars "Callan Park" tract—an 871-acres acquisition that would run Daly City's southern boundary all the way to San Bruno.

The council's decision, climaxing a 2½ hour session, was definitely opposed by a clear majorty in the near-capacity audience.

Daly City and South San Francisco school officials and citizens who took the podium supported Councilman Joseph Verducci's contention that the city needed more definition from the Callans and that the hearing should be continued until several more meetings could be called between all entities affected.

The council majority, however, stressed that since there were no legally legitimate protests aired at the hearing there was no reason for continuing the hearing. Councilman Bob St. Clair said he felt the council still had the "upper hand" in working for specific agreements with the Callans prior to voting for or against the annexation.

City Attorney Paul Hupf's interpretation on the validity of the protests (asked for by the council) 'was that none presented Monday evening constituted sufficient grounds to nullify or prolong the public hearing.

Hupf's statement and the position of the city council majority basically reflected their thinking that closing the hearing was merely parliamentary procedure and would in no way commit the council on the annexation until all the problems pertinent to a final decision were resolved by the city administrative staff with the Callans, school officials, and individual citizens.

The lone written protest submitted at the hearing was a letter from Harry C. Christen, owner of the uninhabited Christen dairy ranch lands adjoining Callan's proposed development. Christen emphasized that his property" is not to be considered for annexation" as part of the Callan project and he said he was protesting any representations made by anyone who told the council Christen property was included in the annexation.

Hupf stated, however, that according to state law, even Christen's protest was not legally valid because the Christen property is zoned residential (for homes) and only if it were zoned agricultural could it be declared exempt from annexation.

Hupf added that the verbal and written protests made by the Daly City elementary and South San Francisco Unified school districts, plus the comments against closing the hearing voiced by 12 Daly City and SSF citizens Monday night, did not, again by state law, constitute legal grounds for blocking the annexation or continuing the hearing.

Verducci, insisting that the hearing be continued, declared, as did the schools' spokesmen and citizens, that many problems the annexation would entail had yet to be fully discussed by all parties and that the Callans would have to provide more tangible facts to show that the annexation would be fiscally beneficial to Daly City.

Applauded heavily by the audience, Verducci cited reports to the council from City Manager Edward Frank and City Engineer Bill Chapman. Frank's letter stressed: "If proper precautions and procedures are not adopted during annexation negotiations, the council may be promoting a situation that may cause future problems and costs that may be a detriment to Daly City."

The city manager stressed the need for a master plan for the entire Callan tract area, and also a "proper land use plan should be adopted." As did City Engineer Bill Chapman, Frank said the city's present subdivision ordinance needs revision to strengthen the city's position for basic guarantees in annexation negotiations with all builders.

Frank emphasized that final council action on the annexation does not have to take place until the "problem areas" are corrected by the council in agreements with the Callans after the city gets cost factor studies on provisions for the Callan tract's fire and police facilities, sewage and water stipulations, storm drainage, overall planning, municipal facilities, zoning and building regulations.

Councilman Francis Pacelli agreed with St. Clair that closing the hearing was a matter of routine and that the council still would control the annexation terms by strictly adhering to subdivision map and zoning specifications.

Mayor Edward Dennis said he had "complete confidence in our administrative staff to work out these problems with the Callans, the schools and others concerned."

Verducci replied that the administrative staff "merely recomends to us the best practices to follow, but the sole responsibility on this annexation rests with the city council itself."

Chapman's letter to the council concerning the annexation's scope, pinpointed the need for more public works department personnel as soon as the annexation is approved, the need for "a new subdivision ordinance that is more strict with greater definition," that at least two water reservoirs would be required for the area, that a new public works center in the Callan tract would be essential to offset the decentralization the annexation would cause, that north-south and east-west major city streets be clearly confirmed,

SEWER BOARD ANTICIPATES ANNEXATIONS

Sanitation District directors here Monday speeded preliminary plans for the annexation of the proposed Callan Park development to the North San Mateo County Sanitation District, headquarters in Westlake.

District chairman Bob St. Clair, and sanitation directors Tom Callan Sr. and Francis Pacelli received a resolution from the County Boundary Commission approving the proposed boundary line for the annexation.

St. Clair said the district is anticipating needs for sewer services in Doelger's Westlake Unit II, recently annexed to the district, and for the undeveloped Callan and Christen lands south and southwest of St. Francis Heights. Under the district agreement with Doelger, Pacelli explained that the builder would pay for and install three pumps to facilitate sewage hookups in Unit II west of Skyline boulevard. The builder also will be required to pay a nominal fee to the district on each home in Westlake II for these connections.

Engineer Ted Tronoff, who has been employed by all three major builders here, has proposed to sanitation officials that a new sewage plant, perhaps even bigger than the pre-

THIS mishap on Edgemar freeway near Daly City's Skyline boulevard Wednesday morning last week sent William Efestione, 304 Nelson avenue, Pacifica, to the hospital with multiple injuries. Police said Efestione's auto was going north behind the big truck and rammed into the larger vehicle. The truck dragged the car approximately 600 feet before the truck driver was aware of the situation. The trucker was not injured.

OTIS CALHOUN

Ex-DC Works Boss Gets County Post

Former Daly City Public Works Director Otis T. Calhoun went to work at his new job last week — assistant director of public works for Santa Clara County, headquarters San Jose.

Calhoun's salary for the high position will be $16,800 a year, $300 a month more than he was paid by Daly City.

The 50-year-old professional engineer, a graduate of University of Southern California, finished second on the written exam for the Santa Clara County post. The field of applicants numbered about 25.

Calhoun and his wife, Helen, are in the process of selling their Westlake home at 2 Lake Forest drive. They soon will move to establish residence in San Jose.

Their son, Ronald, 25, is associated with the Peninsula engineering firm of Wilsey, Ham & Blair of Millbrae. Ronald is an engineering graduate of UCLA.

Calhoun began his Daly City duties on January 2 of 1957. He resigned late in January this year after it was revealed that the city council wanted a change in the publlc works department leadership.

Before coming to Daly City, Calhoun worked for 12 years as assistant airport engineer for the city of Los Angeles. He has worked professionally in engineering since 1936.

Candidates' Night Here Next Tuesday

The Non-Partisan Voters League will present a Daly City Candidates' Night at which all candidates for the city council and the city treasurer's office will be invited to attend and present their views.

Marvin Nathan, representative of the League, said that the candidates' Night will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 29, in the auditorium of the Benjamin Franklin School, 700 Stewart avenue, Colma. Each candidate will address the audience on his views and his platform. Thereafter, individuals in the audience may present questions to the candidates by an impartial moderator.

Nathan said that as far as he knew this would be the only opportunity for the voters of Daly City to view the candidates in an assembled group and evaluate each on his merits. Due to the importance of the coming election to the future of Daly City, he invited, and strongly urged, all residents of the area to attend.

'Only One Form' For Tax Exemptions

City Clerk Evelyn Mosman today reminded individuals filing for $1000 veteran's property tax exemptions that they need only fill out one form to meet city and county requirements.

The county form, delivered to veterans by mail, should be filled out and mailed back to the county or taken to the city clerk's office, 75 Wellington avenue, Daly City.

Mosman said veterans do not have to fill out separate forms for the city and county.

"One form is all that's required, and I think this explanation will end some of the confusion," she declared.

The filing deadline for vets' exemptions is May 2.

Voter Registration Made Convenient At Local Supermarkets

With registration deadline in mid-April, registrars are working weekends for the convenience of those wishing to register for the elections in June and November.

Although door-to-door registration is getting results, registration booths in the various supermarkets may be more accessible for the many voters still not registered. These booths are open on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons at the following markets: Mayfair, in Broadmoor; Safeway, off Junipero Serra boulevard; Spotlite, on Hillside boulevard, and the Westlake Food Center in Westlake Shopping Center.

Registration for the primary election in June closes on April 14th.

Westlake Youngster Struck By Auto, Suffers Concussion

Four-year-old Thomas Baciocco, 133 Windsor drive, suffered a concussion after being struck by a cab at Windsor drive near Bel Mar avenue Monday at 4:40 p.m.

Gene B. Jacobson, 36, 349 Granada drive, South San Francisco, who works as a Yellow Cab driver in Daly City, said he had been dispatched from Westlake Shopping Center to a different locale. Enroute, the boy ran in front of his car. Before he could put on the brakes the mishap occurred, Jacobson said.

The boy was taken to a doctor's office in Westlake. When it was found Baciocco was suffering from a concussion he was transferred by M&D Ambulance to Community Hospital.

sent one, eventually will be needed in the Mussel Rock area on the Coastside to accomodate homes in the southerly Westlake units, St. Francis Heights, and the Callan and Christen tracts.

Financing of this plant has not been resolved at the city council level here, but annexation possibilities warrant full consideration on this proposed facility, St. Clair has remarked at recent council meetings.

In line with this project, the sanitation board Monday selected engineer Harry N. Jenks to make a comprehensive study of the overall needs of the treatment plant in regard to additions and expected future load conditions. Jenks will make an engineering survey of the entire district — covering both the incorporated and the unincorporated areas.

Tronoff at Monday's meeting reported capital value of mains installed in Westlake and St. Francis Heights is $569,058, or 1½ times the amount spent for the sewage treatment plant. Tronoff also said he would look into the present ventilation installation at the St. Francis Heights pumping station and report back to the board.

Directors gave District Engineer C. L. White and Chief Operator L. F. Giuffra permission to attend a meeting Thursday next week in Pacifica, called by Pacifica Public Works Director Paul F. Rushing to discuss the formation of a Peninsula section of the American Public Works Association.

Cigarette 'Pause' Believed Cause Of Four-Car Accident

A driver who lit a cigarette was believed to be at fault in a four-car accident on Skyline boulevard just south of Westmoor avenue Sunday at 4:10 p.m.

Officers Richard Sims and James Bergstrom said that George Knorr, 18, a farmer from Marysville, was driving in heavy fog and traffic and apparently took his eyes off the road to light a cigarette. They claimed the result was a four-car, bumper-to-bumper collision.

The other drivers were Bernard N. Logasa, 31, a San Jose State college student; Mortimer F. McInerney, 34, a San Francisco police sergeant; and Earl D. Hoyt, 35, general manager of a Menlo Park business firm.

Knorr was slighty injured but refused treatment. Passengers injured were: Bluma Lagoso, 56, of San Jose, was was transported to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance; and Marion McInerney, 29, and her daughter Cheryl, 9, who said they would consult the family physician. No citation was given at the scene, but police said they would issue one to Knorr.

DA's Ruling

"If by some remote chance the individual's interest as city treasurer did actually threaten to conflict with his interest as a member of the school board, such interest would in all probability be cured by scrupulous compliance with sections of the State Education Code, which provide that, in the event of any such conflict, action by the school board will not be prohibited provided there be a disclosure of the same by the interested officer, said disclosure being noted in the minutes and the board thereafter approving and authorizing the action in question by vote sufficient for the purpose, without counting the vote of the interested member. In view of the foregoing, we feel that the two positions or offices are legally compatible."

LAW IN ACTION

RIGHT OF WITNESSES

By far the most vital people in our system of justice are witnesses. Everyone else in a trial exists to hear what they have to say.

Our courts need witnesses. A jury to find the facts. The judge to apply the law. The lawyer to tell his client's story.

Chances are you worry about stepping up, taking an oath, and telling your story in court.

On some rare occasions you could be called upon to testify about something affecting your own standing in the community.

As a witness you too may have the right, for example, not to testify against yourself in somebody else's lawsuit or crime trial.

If you are ever in such a bind, consult a lawyer of your own choice on what to do. The lawyer who called you to testify has a sworn duty to protect his client, not you. But your lawyer is sworn to keep what you tell him secret and to advise you in your own interests within the law.

Wise lawyers tell their witnesses to obey twelve rules:

1. Go to the place (say, the scene of an accident). Check your memory before you go to court. People forget and get caught up on details. But if you check what you saw and heard you are on solid ground.
2. Visit a court. Hear how other witnesses testify. It will help you see your role on the witness stand.
3. Wear clean, conservative clothes.
4. Don't memorize your story word for word. That is the surest way to sound bad. But think of what you saw and heard.
5. Listen to the questions you are asked with care and answer thoughtfully.
6. Give a simple, direct answer in your own words. Don't be rushed.
7. If you err—and people often do—correct yourself at once. If you can't remember some detail, say so. Don't bluff.
8. Tell the truth. Don't figure which side you may help. Don't identify yourself with either side.
9. Stop when the judge breaks in, and don't try to sneak an answer in before he can stop you. What you might say could end in a "mistrial."
10. Keep cool and don't sass back.
11. If they ask you: Certainly, you have talked to other people—the lawyer, for example; and yes, you may get the lawful witness fee to make up in part for the time lost from your job.
12. Remember, without witnesses our law would fail to do justice. If you are called, be a good witness.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

CALLAN PARK HEARING

and that water rates should be fully investigated.

Most vigorous protests against the council majority's vote closing the hearing Monday came from Jefferson Elementary District School Superintendent Richard Foster and Chairman John Broughan of the South San Francisco school board, representing the official stand of SSF School Supt. Charles Davis and the board of trustees.

Jefferson High School Superintendent Edward Morgan and trustee Edwin Newton, representing the San Bruno School District, also pointed out that school needs were of primary concern to residents and governmental bodies throughout the Callan tract area. Morgan's statements came in a letter to the council and another to Callan, stressing that regardless of which city annexes the tract "areas must be set aside for schools."

Foster, instructed by his board to ask why the Jefferson Elementary District wasn't notified promptly by the council on negotiations with the Callans, firmly explained the minimum and maximum school needs that Callan Park would create and the seriousness of financing these schools and this effect on the district's present tight-budget program.

Foster cited that although the Callan tract presently lies within the South San Francisco School District, by the state education code the residents of this new area could petition for redistricting into the Daly City school districts, thus the developer would have no control as supervisors could authorize an election or hearing and the redistricting might materialize.

A letter from the South San Francisco schools to Foster's district asked that serious consideration be given to this redistricting because South San Francisco feels it should not have to pay for the education of students who live within another city.

Foster said it was almost inevitable that the Daly City school districts would inherit the Callan tract responsibilities and he said this possibility should be considered by the council from tax and public welfare standpoints.

Foster gave the council the "bottom line and maximum projections" on the schools' concerns. He said 5500 Callan tract homes would mean 4400 more children to accommodate, requiring at least five new elementaries and one junior high school or $9 to $12 million in new school bonds to finance these facilities. This projection he said would reduce the assessed valuation per home behind each district student from $8000 to $7130, or $20 less for the education of each child, a loss to the district totaling $200,000 a year. Foster explained that the district currently is on an austerity program because it, like South San Francisco, depends entirely on state aid.

Foster's "bottom line" projection on the Callan development would require a minimum of four elementary schools, a $6 to $8 million bond issue, and would raise the amount of assessed valuation behind each child. This, he pointed out, would be possible only if fewer Callan homes were constructed, but Foster said he wondered if the city knew exactly what Callan had in mind.

The Daly City superintendent suggested that the public hearing be kept open until more definite information were supplied by the Callans, more school considerations were discussed, and he suggested that possibly annexation by increments would be more practical in view of the high cost factors involved for both the city and schools.

Verducci concurred with Foster's statement about piecemeal annexation.

"If we take one swallow at a time it might be more practical," said Verducci. "A large hunk might bring indigestion."

Verducci said the city had a moral responsibility to the schools and Daly City's sister cities in all annexations. He said the council lacked sufficient facts to close the hearing and he questioned the lack of tax-beneficial industry in the huge development and the unresolved water and sewer problems.

Frank Rose, attorney for the Callans, said the annexation's merits for Daly City were obvious. He said his firm was willing to sign agreements on water, streets and municipal facilities. But Rose dismissed the school problems by stating that these should be the responsibility of the school districts. He also said the sewage problem would not be his firm's extreme concern since the present sewage district would no doubt take the lead on this project.

Rose cited that the tract's four proposed shopping centers and many apartments would bring much revenue to the city and "would pay its share to the city as a whole." By adding 2800 homes, Rose said Daly City would become the county's second largest community, and if the adjacent Christen lands also come into Daly City, then Daly City could become the largest city in the county.

Rose said the annexation "would bring no immediate strain on city facilities or services." He added that the developer was sensitive to school needs and would make provisions for adequate sites.

Rose said his firm would go into more detailed studies on the annexation cost factors as soon as it is feasible and the council indicates it is serious about the annexation.

Rose pointed out that the Callans already have met three times with the city's administrative staff to discuss satisfactory basic patterns and location of commercial and residential developments.

Mayor Edward Dennis suggested the city staff meet with Mayor Andrew Rocca and the South San Francisco council to discuss drainage in the new tract. Rocca's letter asking for this meeting was read Monday night.

Citizens who Monday night asked the council to fully explore the annexation problems were: Daly City residents — Julius Castelan, engineer stressing equitable water rates and service for the area; housewife Elsie Garrison, asking that a citizens' committee be appointed to study the annexation and that the council be realistic and keep the hearing open; real estate salesman Del Wilson, citing that builders here in the past haven't conformed to annexation agreements; Frank Garibaldi, protesting higher city taxes to serve new areas; and Earl Clearwater, St. Francis Heights Improvement Association, declaring that the facts to date have been indefinite, that Callan's commitments should be fully validated and that sewer, drainage and other tax problems be defined before the hearing is closed.

South San Francisco citizens who wanted more facts were: Mrs. Betty Hammon, representing Serra Highlands Homeowners, asking about provisions for storm drainage and soil erosion control; Carl Kaufmann, inquiring about storm drainage proposals in Winston Manor; and Peter Martinez, claiming that cities should stick together to insist that storm drainage problems would be given prime attention.

Hupf pointed out that closing the hearing did not mean that further "persuasive" arguments for and against the annexation could not be made by public bodies or individuals. He said the closing of the hearing merely made it definite that no additional legal protests could be considered by the council, although all comments from interested parties certainly would be possible and would be weighed by the council.

The council concluded the session by introducing the annexation ordinance after St. Clair moved that the hearing be closed. Pacelli seconded the motion.

Police Officer

Police said his criminal record includes convictions for indecent exposure, in San Francisco, and on a Peeping Tom charge in Reno. Another Reno charge against him, assault with intent to commit rape, was dismissed, the records show. Daly City officers also said Stevens is wanted by San Francisco as a robbery suspect.

The 5-11, 170-pounder, a native of Anson, Texas, Monday was taken to municipal court in South San Francisco for preliminary hearing. Bail was set at $5000 cash or $10,000 bond.

Police Sergeant Charles Terry, chief inspector on the case, commended Murray for prompt action. Terry reminded that Murray was instrumental in a somewhat similar incident two years ago when a registered sex deviate had driven two Daly City children to the Crocker Hills. Murray, on patrol, spotted the auto, rescued the youngsters, and booked the kidnaper.

...NTIL 21 - ILLEGAL TO ...BUY MACHINE GUN

By Lou Lucia

"No applications for machine guns may be accepted from persons under 21 years of age."

This is one of the interesting laws which is written into the California state penal code which was adopted on January 11, 1873. Though amended many times since then, the code still has a number of laws which seem to be either obsolete or worded rather incongruously.

Number 228 reads, "Any citizens of this state who shall fight a duel with weapons, or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, either within this state or out of it, or who shall act a a second, or knowingly aid or assist in any manner those thus offending, shall not be allowed to h...d any office. . ."

...hoped that persons run... ...r government positions ...are of this—mainly be... ...o many duels are fought ...y. However, if you are ...g for office and have ...n challenged and "chick... ed" out, don't feel bad. You can't be campaigned against. No. 229 says you cannot "post or publish" against anyone who refuses to fight a dual with you.

Incidentally, it is illegal to play with dice having more than six faces or bases each, according to No. 330.

Our hope is that we're not extradited to another county. No. 783 says an offense on any plane is punishable in the county over which it was committed. And, honestly, we weren't trying to get sick "over" Los Angeles County.

But believe us we won't go against No. 593. This section claims that it is against the law to climb upon an electrical transmission line without consent. The reason we won't go against this is because we have a pop-up toaster at home.

If we did we certainly wouldn't try to escape by driving our vehicle down the track of a railroad. At least, not without the authorization of its superintendent. This would be against No. 369 and possibly an oncoming train.

And if we got caught doing all these different things there would be some consolation. A free haircut would be given. No. 4020 states, "For public health or to improve the health of criminals under sentence, to a longer term than 15 days—hair should be cut within 1½ inches."

LETTER TO EDITOR
'Ask For Restraint And Caution In Callan Annexation Issue

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

For the second time within a week a near packed Daly City Council Chambers experienced another truly "stacked deck" meeting of our City Council.

With only one exception over a dozen people representing many important community groups and literally hundreds of people from our city and near-by cities pleaded with the Council to exercise restraint and caution in the Callan Park Annexation issue. Every voice, including one from the Council ...elf and the City's Adminis... ...tigated, ...was flagrantly station ...nd all caution was and Ji...e winds and the ...ed the ...went on. station but wonder how

The ...e "yea" voters on turnin... have heard of gott... efferson's wise say... of ...never a man has cast str... eye on office, a rot... tenness begins in his conduct." I also wonder if the majority of our Council is aware of the fact that there is a "straw that breaks the camel's back."

Many "straws" have been heaped on the backs of our Daly City people in the form of short sighted expensive lack of planning, and if this latest issue weighs too heavily the burden may no longer be tolerated. An aroused and indignant citizenry could easily instigate a recall movement to do away with the causes of our many past and what looks like future back-breaking burdens.

Must we resort to a "Recall" to make sure that we are to be heard and that our Council will do their job properly?

Yours very truly,

Robert E. Smice

APRIL 15 IS STATE INCOME TAX DEADLINE!

Time and tide wait for no man and April 15, the final date for filing state income tax returns, is approaching, State Controller Alan Cranston, chairman of the Franchise Tax Board, today reminded all Californians.

Cranston stressed the advantages of early filing to taxpayers of the state.

"The board is extending every possible cooperation to the taxpayer," Cranston said. "Now is a good time to obtain help in filing your return. Board auditors are now in a position to assist taxpayers who want help—but because of the last minute rush, such help may not be available as we come closer to April 15.

Jeff High Pair Apprehended After Siphoning Gasoline

Two Jeff High students, one 15 and the other 16, were halted by police last Wednesday night after they siphoned gas from an auto and then ran out of gas in their own car a few blocks away.

The freshman and sophomore reportedly tapped gas from the two-door sedan of Attilio Ballati, parked in front of his home, 243 Citrus avenue. A neighbor of Ballati's spotted the siphoning act and Police Officer Richard Sims soon arrived on the scene, finding a pail and a hose used by the teeners.

Sims quickly came upon the boys and their stalled car at Niantic avenue and Citrus. Two other residents in the area said that gas also had been siphoned from their cars.

Sims cited the Jeff pair to Hillcrest Juvenile Home, then they were released in custody of their parents.

Boy Struck By Car On Hillside; Motorist Cited

A three-year-old boy who ran into the street in front of 370 Hillside boulevard was struck by a car Tuesday last week at 3:30 p.m. He darted from behind a parked truck into the street. He was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Vivian M. Opp, 41, 80 Westmont drive.

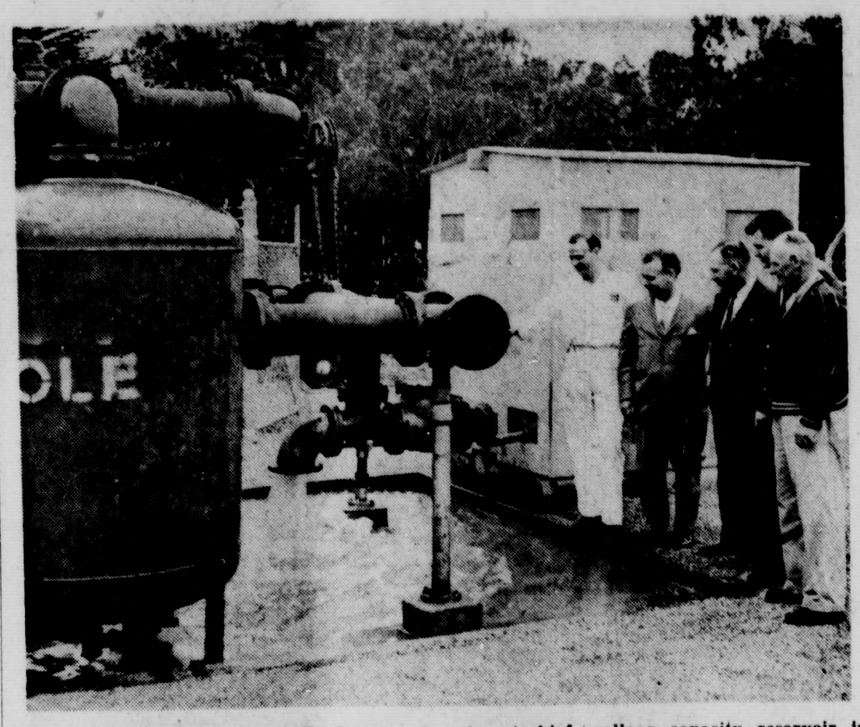
Keith M. Jacobs, 49 Tallwood drive, was treated at Junipero Serra Hospital after being driven there by Officer David Johnstone.

The housewife was not cited for the accident but was given a citation by Officer Richard deLosa for driving with an expired license.

Bus Boy Charged With Hit & Run

Jose B. Vinals, 558 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, was picked up by Officer James Bergstrom last Wednesday at 10 p.m. on a King City Judicial District Court Warrant charging hit and run driving in a personal injury accident.

Vinals, 19, a bus boy, was held on $2100 cash or $4200 bond bail.



CITY MANAGER Ed Frank (center of group) and city councilmen inspected the new $68,000 water well 12 and pumper station, 2nd and B streets, Friday with City Engineer Bill Chapman and Gus Ford, water department chief. The well, built entirely under DC public works office specifications, draws 1,800,000 gallons a day—the most of any of the eight city wells. This facility and the new 1.5 million gallons capacity reservoir in Westlake Unit 11 have greatly reduced Daly City purchases of San Francisco water and are responsible for better water supply throughout the city.

FOR HIGH SCHOOLERS
Jeff District's Summer School Registrations Now Being Taken

Director Robert S. Watt today reported that registrations are now being accepted for Jefferson High School District's 1960 Summer School which will be conducted at Westmoor.

Watt, boys' physical education teacher and student counsellor, will be the principal for the two sessions—one running eight weeks (for sophomores, juniors and seniors) and the other (for incoming freshmen) lasting six weeks.

The two sessions both begin June 22 and end on August 2 and August 16 respectively.

Watt, a graduate of San Francisco State, anticipates total summer school enrollment of 1000 students, about 150 of these eighth graders who will be entering Jefferson and Westmoor as freshmen this September. Fifty-four teachers have volunteered as summer school instructors, but Watt thinks only about 35 will be needed. Classes will be organized with a minimum of 20 students.

Deadline for students to register with their deans and counsellors is May 1. Registration preference will be given to residents of Jefferson High School District, but students from local parochial schools and nearby San Francisco schools are encouraged to attend.

Watt stressed: "Attendance at Summer School is an opportunity — not a requirement." Pupils who have absences totaling eight hours accumulated by missing two sessions of a four-hour per day class, or four sessions of a two-hour per day class, will be dropped if an additional absence, regardless of the cause, is accrued.

Excessive tardiness will be sufficient grounds for dropping a student from summer school. A tardy is defined as a late entry into any class after the class has started. Entry into a class more than 10 minutes late shall be counted as a delayed entry. Two delayed entries are equivalent to one cut, or three tardies are equivalent to one cut. Three cuts will be considered sufficient cause for dropping a student from Summer School.

Watt said students must sign up for a total of four hours daily by taking either two courses of two hours each, or one four-hour per day class. First period will run from 8 a.m. to 9:50 a.m., then there will be a short brunch, followed by period two, from 10 to noon.

The Summer School classes, Watt explained, offer students both the opportunity to brush up on certain regular courses and also to take elective courses for a personal enrichment and accelerated learning.

The improvement courses for the incoming freshmen are Math Fundamentals, English Fundamentals and Speed Reading, while elective offerings are Typing, Conversational Spanish, Pre-Algebra, Physical Education, Conversational French, and Arts and Crafts.

For sophs, juniors and seniors, the regular courses include English, General Science, General Math, Civics, U.S. History, Auto and Wood Shops, Arts and Crafts, Algebra 2, Typing and Speed Reading.

If there is sufficient enrollment, these courses will be offered sophs, juniors and seniors as electives:

Sewing (Clothing) for girls, Algebra 1 and 2, Chemistry 1 and 2, College Skills (introduction to college procedures, note taking and typing), California History, Advanced Band, General Business 3, Physical Education, Conversational Spanish, Psychology, World Literature, Sociology, Business Machines, Biology 2, Electricity, and Mechanical Drawing.

Watt, age 27, holds A.B. and M.A. degrees and general secondary teaching and general secondary administrative credentials.

Carpenter Hurt As His Vehicle Rams Parked One

Herman H. Hollenbeck, 47, 55 Templeton avenue, was treated for a severe laceration on his lower right lip after his car struck a parked vehicle on Irvington street and knocked over a two-hour parking sign at 11:20 a.m. Friday.

He was driven to Junipero Serra Hospital by Officer John Van Otten. Hollenbeck was later transferred to Mount Zion Hospital.

Gateway Company Auto Lot Raided

George Shinazy, manager of Gateway Chevrolet Company, 7400 Mission street, told Officer David Johnstone that $322 worth of tires, wheels and batteries were stolen from cars and trucks located at the rear of the lot.

He reported the losses Monday afternoon saying the thefts occurred between noon Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday.

Aid Heart Victim

Connie Spittler, 369 Santa Barbara avenue, notified police last Wednesday at 4:30 a.m. that her mother, Mrs. Emilia Valletta, 66, 189 Santa Cruz avenue, was having a heart seizure.

Firemen administered oxygen, then the family doctor arrived, according to Officer Robert Stables. M&D Ambulance transported the woman to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Neville Car Lot Raided By Thief

Eleven tires and wheels valued at $42 each were stolen last week from Neville Motors used car lot at Washington and Dunks streets.

J. B. Covey, shop foreman, 139 Werner street, said the loss amounted to $462. The theft occurred between 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Burglar Takes Television Set

Raymond A. Clifford, 39, 41 Como avenue, told Officer Jim Doran a portable TV set worth $158 was stolen from his home between 4 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Clifford said the front door was locked but the rear door of the residence was slightly ajar when he returned.

Art Work Of 7 DC Students Chosen For International Show

Seven students in Jefferson Elementary School District have received word that their art work has been chosen for international exhibition, according to Mrs. Helen Cordell, art consultant for the district.

There were 70 works of art chosen to represent the United States in the First Exhibition of Art Education of the Youths and Schoolchildren of the Free World in Korea.

This exhibit by the Korean National Commission of UNESCO was designed to promote mutual appreciation of Asian and Western cultural values. The chosen works will be displayed in the National Art Gallery, in Seoul, in order that Korean children will be able to participate in a project aimed to broaden and deepen the mutual understanding of children in the free world, promote their friendship, and advance the fine arts.

Final selections were made by a panel of art educators consisting of: Dr. Ralph Beelke, Executive Secretary, National Art Education Association; Dr. Mayo Bryce, Specialist in Education for the Fine Arts, Office of Education; and Miss Gloria Montero, Montgomery County School District, Maryland.

The students who have been honored by having their works displayed at an international exhibition are: Maureen Borelli and Lisa Brettroger, fifth grade, Thornton School; Peggy Jennings, fifth grade, Woodrow Wilson; Paula Young, seventh grade, Colma; John Restivo, eighth grade, Colma; John Kermode, seventh grade, and Francis Abbot, eighth grade, Benjamin Franklin.

Other children who had works submitted were: Robert Varley, third grade, Vista Grande; Janice Tofting, fourth grade, Crocker School; Eddie Wiitala, seventh grade, and Tommy Hogon, Kathy Graft, Siro Bignotti, eighth grade, Benjamin Franklin.

New Telephone Prefix (WYman) Makes Debut Here

A new telephone prefix went into effect in the Daly City-Colma area this week, Pacific Telephone Manager W L. Conkey has announced.

The prefix, WYman 2, was established to accommodate growth in the area.

Conkey said no existing telephone numbers will be changed. Establishment of the new prefix will make available

Watch Is Stolen In The Classroom

Pamela Ann Meitz, 16, 520 87th street, Colma, had her $80 watch stolen from her purse in a journalism classroom at Westmoor High School on March 10.

Her mother this week notified Officer John Van Otten of the theft. The girl said she left the wristwatch in her purse while she went outside to type a lesson.

COOLING SYSTEM TIP

Keep your car's cooling system free from leaks and such and scale collection in the system will be kept to a minimum, points out the National Automobile Club. Every time you add water the amount of scale is likely to be increased by impurities in that water.

MAYOR Edward Dennis last Saturday morning gave Jefferson High students Gail Lonstron (left) and Lois Holcomb the reasons behind Daly City's budget crisis during a special interview at City Hall. Dennis cited the council's position on fiscal policy and read a letter from City Manager Edward Frank explaining budget problems. The students are making a full study of the city budget situation as a history class project. THE RECORD photo

AROUND TOWN

By ROY HURLBERT

CITY MANAGER Edward Frank is as busy as any city's new executive should be.

Ed commutes daily from Petaluma. Reason is that he prefers not to move his family to Daly City until after school (in Petaluma) is out for his son this June.

Calhoun especially covets the new post because it doesn't involve any night meetings and city council bickerings.

Needless to say, Santa Clara County is bigger than Daly City, so draw your own conclusions on how well off Calhoun now is.

●

THE "Non-Partisan Citizens League" is sponsoring the only Candidates' Night prior to the April 12 municipal election.

The scuttlebutt is that one of Daly City's three city council candidates will miss this meeting on purpose.

Wonder if this rumor is true, and why?

●

REVEREND Lynn Hodges of Westlake had fellow Rotarians roaring with laughter last week when he remarked to new City Manager Ed Frank:

"This is what you call separation of the church and the state."

Hodges and Frank were seated on the same side of the table but were separated by a vacant chair between them.

●

COLUMNISTS in the San Francisco press have "rumored" Daly City's next choice for mayor.

Some say St. Clair will succeed Dennis. Another guess was Pacelli—if he's re-elected.

It takes three votes to carry all council decisions. The only thing probable at present is that the council will not be unanimous in its selection of a new chairman.

Politics is politics is politics.

MAKING our weekly tour of town last week, we polled five residents on their understanding of Daly City government.

Two of them were able to remember the names of three councilmen. Three didn't know the mayor's name, and one couldn't identify any of the councilmen.

Where does the responsibility for this "unawareness" lie?

●

IN a nine-paragraph opinion, District Attorney Keith Sorenson has informed Jefferson Elementary District officials that it would be perfectly legal for a school board trustee to hold the municipal job of city treasurer.

The JESD board made the inquiry to determine the status of chairman of trustees Joe Lewkowitz, should Joe win the city treasurer's post in the April 12 election.

Sorenson concluded: "We feel that the two positions (trustee and city treasurer) are legally compatible."

●

IN THIS space a few weeks back, we cited a letter from a college representative who praised the high caliber of the faculty and curriculum at Westmoor High School.

The same salute would be fitting for the administration and instructors at pioneer Jeff High.

Jeff isn't as fancy as Westmoor, but education-wise, the cultural climate at the older school by no means suffers in comparison to the newer plant.

"Glitter alone does not a diamond make."

●

STUDENTS in two Jeff High History classes, incidentally, are checking out Daly City's municipal budget deficit problem. About eight youngsters are researching this project and will make oral reports to classmates.

We think the study is commendable because local government should be important to teenagers who might lead this community as adults.

●

DR. SANFORD MARCUS of Westlake is certain the North County Hospital Study Committee will be able to show enough cause for a special election in 1961 to establish a hospital district. A meeting here Tuesday night proved that the committee has enough facts to substantiate balloting on the proposal.

●

IT'S THE little people who count.

Reporter-cameraman Lou Lucia last week volunteered for the best of assignments—photographing Daly City's dimpled darlings, the Valencia triplets.

Two years old on St. Patrick's Day, the trio squirmed and fussed a bit, but steady Lucia caught them in a natural posture.

Lucia was lucky. Mom Valencia has to watch the trio like a hawk. Their six little feet are hard to keep up with—a real workout for the parents.

●

THE LUCK of Old Erin blessed Dale McGinty of Daly City's Pacific supermart last week, delivering Patricia Marie McGinty via the stork on St. Pat's Day.

The wee lassie scaled six pounds and 12 ounces.

Take it from a Scotchman, sure 'twas a nice coincidence.

West Moltke Street Resident, 48, Succumbs At Home

Edward Sorini, 48, 98 West Moltke street, was pronounced dead at his home by his family physician Sunday at 3:11 a.m.

Sergeant Jerry Galindo and Officer Robert Stables responded to the call from the victim's wife, Frances. When they arrived M&D Ambulance attendants were administering oxygen. The doctor was giving artificial respiration to Sorini who was lying face up on the kitchen floor.

The fire department arrived with additional oxygen apparatus but it was too late. The death was attributed to natural causes.

Trustees Hire 4 More Instructors

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees hired four teachers and authorized the administration to hire additional custodians Monday night.

Hired were: Miss Audrey Lynne Chotiner, who received her A. B. degree from UCLA; James B. Herndon, University of California; Mrs. Ruth Ann Jarboe, San Francisco State; and Mrs. Jean R. Leahy, Pomona College.

Trustees also moved to increase the custodial staff by four persons, two to be hired in the near future. The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ione Farmer whose contract will be terminated this June.

FUN GALORE AT THESE TOP SPOTS

WESTLAKE'S BILL WAGNER . . . versatile

PERSONALITY SERIES:

Westlake's Busy Bill Wagner -- A TV Aide With Many Abilities

By MONA BAKER
TV & Radio
Staff Writer

Artist, writer, lecturer, film producer, television color consultant—it is certainly a busy and creative life for talented and dynamic William "Bill" Wagner who lives with his family at 78 Northgate avenue in Westlake.

It is amazing that there are enough hours in the day for Bill to accomplish everything that he does. He developed a process for colored television called ChromaCHron (method of determining the grey scale of colors, so that they will be compatible) which is now in use throughout the nation, and great interest in the process has been shown by foreign countries. A skillful artist in mosaics, he fashioned the striking fish mosaic adorning the wall at the Steinhart Aquarium across from the alligator pool—a project which he told us he completed in a couple of weeks working a few hours at a time.

Bill has produced a number of fascinating and certainly original films on art and creativity—one "Art for Fun" was shown at the recent Western Radio-TV Conference held in San Francisco receiving enthusiastic acclaim. Two others, "Scribbles" and "Art for Leisure" have been shown in schools. Certainly emphasizing the wide age span covered by the films, he told us they have been borrowed by both the Army and nursery schools and proved quite entertaining to both. Currently he is negotiating with two publishers for a film series and book on creativity and art. An interesting sidelight on his films, they are bilingual. Since Bill speaks Spanish fluently, he has a Spanish as well as an English version. He said he speaks "English with a Spanish accent and Spanish with an English accent!" Also currently he has just completed a series of television commercials, is film consultant on a United Crusade film, and has just finished several industrial films.

In the writing field in addition to books on art, he is author of an article on colored television in the current issue of "Journal of Commercial Art." As a lecturer he has appeared before Bay Area high schools, art classes at San Francisco State, and is scheduled for lectures in the near future at Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design and a San Francisco elementary school.

His artistic talent carries right over into his family. His charming wife, Amalia, is an accomplished concert violinist—played formerly with the San Francisco Junior Symphony and has made many Bay Area concert appearances. Both their sons paint; Ronald, a student at Daly City's Benjamin Franklin School plays the trumpet, and Robert, who attends Olympic school, is studying piano.

Certainly an outstanding example of success in his chosen career, we asked Bill for a few words of advice to young people seeking a career in art. He said, "be as creative as possible and express yourself as much as possible." We asked him about the possibilities of a career in colored television, and he said that in from five to ten years, he could foresee many opportunities opening up for young artists.

In the meantime Bill will be building the foundations as he makes further creative contributions to this exciting, demanding, and most of all challenging medium—television.

'SURVIVAL KIT FOR PARENTS' SUBJECT OF PTA DISCUSSIONS

Few relationships demand more insight and understanding or hold greater possibilities for growth than the parent-child relationship. Who hasn't known a resistant child, an angry child, a tired child, a frightened child, an unhappy child? But how many parents know how to deal intelligently with these phases of juvenile behavior?

"Survival Kit for Parents" may offer some solutions. This is the intriguing title of a discussion series designed to help parents educate themselves for a better understanding of their children.

Mrs. Anne Kirschner, recently appointed to the staff of the Adult Education Division of Jefferson Union High School District,. will lead the series consisting of five meetings starting Wednesday, April 20, at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of Benjamin Franklin School.

Mrs. Kirschner organized this parent-education course at the request of Parent Teachers Associations in the district and the North San Mateo County YWCA. Mrs. Thomas West, president of Vista Mar PTA and member of the YWCA's planning committee, has worked with Mrs. Kirschner to coordinate material for the course.

In order for a course of this type to be meaningful to parents, it needs a leader with a stimulating personality and broad and varied experience in human behavior. Mrs. Kirschner meets all these requirements. Her impressive academic background includes Bachelor of Arts and Master's degrees in psychiatric social work and mental hygiene.

She has been an elementary school teacher and also an instructor of student teachers. Working with parents and teachers in various counseling and advisory capacities, Mrs. Kirschner is familiar with student-parent-teacher relationships. Her experience also includes work with infants and pre-school children.

In her current position with the Adult Education Division, Mrs. Kirschner is engaged in coordinating and organizing parent education classes. She also serves as professional consultant for the nursery school program.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

Producers, directors, news reporters, script girls — every day the list is growing as more women succeed in a career that used to be primarily a man's field, that of broadcasting. A very active and effective national organization to which these women belong is known as American Women in Radio and Television, Inc. Under the auspices of the S. F. Chapter of AWRT the first annual radio-television workshop was held last week at the studios of KPIX led by Wanda Ramey as workshop hostess. In attendance were women from around the Bay Area representing advertising and public agencies as well as public relations firms, who are directly concerned with broadcasting. They were most interested in learning how their firms can better utilize the television medium, as well as the place of women in the broadcasting field. KPIX's manager, Lou Simon, who addressed the group told of the rapid turnover of shows and stressed that the station is constantly on the lookout for new ideas. At the present he emphasized that the public service department is one of the busiest departments in the station.

With the trend toward more public service and educational shows, the future is bright for the young woman considering broadcasting as a career—particularly behind the camera where new possibilities for a challenging career are opening up every day.

Sad news for the tricycle set — KQED's delightful children's program "What's New" went off the air last week in spite of the fact that it was the most successful children's programming that has been seen on Channel 9. Started in January on an experimental basis, the program was produced by National Educational Television and the 45 educational outlets, including KQED, throughout the nation. In checking with KQED they told me they were extremely pleased by the viewer response, and are working very hard to have the program returned. Write KQED if you want the program back on the air, and your letters will be forwarded to National Educational Television.

MIKE FOGELMAN, 8, KNOWS WHY RED CROSS NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

Eight-year old Mike Fogelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fogelman of 875 Hanover street, Daly City, greets the Red Cross volunteer driver who comes to his home twice each week with one of the happiest grins in the county. Young Mike is a victim of polio and unable to walk alone, but with the help of Red Cross he goes to Children's Hospital for the physical therapy he needs,

"The Red Cross drivers are wonderful to me," he says, "and they are helping me to get well in a hurry!"

Mike was stricken six months ago, and was hospitalized for five of those months. He is home now, and hopeful that with continued treatment he soon will be able to use crutches.

As for the Red Cross drivers, to a man (and woman) they say such youngsters as Mike give them a real lift, a renewed faith in the human heart.

"My own problems seem pretty small after a day of driving such plucky youngsters back and forth to the clinics," driver Lee Marion says, and his sentiment is echoed among the 100-odd volunteers who drive for Red Cross in San Francisco.

Last year Red Cross drivers in San Francisco chalked up a record 157,694 miles on mercy errands, and they contributed more than 23,000 hours in order to help others.

Mrs. H. Allen Thompson, acting motor service chairman, says the need for new drivers is acute.

"We regret having to turn down calls for help because there are no drivers," she declared, and explained that the need for daytime drivers is a constant problem. Potential volunteers for a day of driving each week are urged to call the Red Cross at PRospect 6-1500 for information.

Fassler Leads Salvation Army 'Sunday' Drive

Mayor Jean Fassler of Pacifica today accepted the San Mateo County chairmanship for Salvation Army Sunday, May 22, 1960.

"We have chosen this date for Salvation Army Sunday this year because it is the first day of National Salvation Army Week and we intend to get National Salvation Army Week off to a good start in San Mateo County," said Mrs. Fassler.

The Salvation Army is celebrating its 80 years of service in the United States. The enlistment of many thousands of volunteer workers has already begin. Mrs. Fassler, a long-time member of The Salvation Army service unit of Pacifica, noted some of her reasons for accepting this county chairmanship. "As an active member of the Pacifica service unit, I have had a first hand opportunity to see Salvation Army in action. Last year alone over 4000 persons were given aid in San Mateo county and I know of the great financial need of this organization."

Mayor Fassler will appoint community chairmen in each city in San Mateo county.

Each worker will collect on her own block and no callbacks will re required. Doorknob envelopes will be left where no one is home. Volunteers are being enlisted at The Salvation Army County headquarters, FIreside 1-0209.

'March Of Dimes' Cites Lewkowitz

The National Foundation of the New March of Dimes has forwarded a certificate of appreciation to Daly City gas station owner and elementary school board chairman Joseph Lewkowitz "for outstanding voluntary service."

Lewkowitz, 501 Vista Grande avenue, for many years has conducted a "Buy Gas For Polio Day" at his service station. All proceeds of Lewkowitz' annual event have gone to the San Mateo County Chapter of the March of Dimes.

Easter Seal Sales Results Good So Far

The largest return of Easter Seal money in the history of San Mateo County was reported today by Postmaster Vincent Murphy, Daly City, community chairman of the 1960 Easter Seal sale.

In the first week of the drive more than $10,000 of the $16,000 quote was received at the Rehabilitation and Research Center, 1764 Marco Polo Way, Burlingame, Murphy announced.

This splended response is an indication that the citizens of San Mateo County recognise that this is a truly home project 12,000 handicapped people right here in San Mateo County," Murphy declared.

The Easter Seal sale pays for operation of the Center where physical, speech and occupational therapy are provided to residents of the county regardless of race, creed or color. The seal sales also provide the money for the sheltered workshop where handicapped people participate in light industrial tasks helping theem to become useful, wage earning citizens.

Charles Stern, executive director of the Center, today invited the public to visit the Center and see the excellent facilities and the results that are being achieved. In the field of research, the technicians at the Center are developing many new and greatly improved methods of training people, especially in the field of speech therapy.

Murphy urged everyone to send in their contribution to the seal sale immediately so that the matter will not be forgotten.

Boys, Girls Under 12 Years Due Top Bowling Instruction Here

Beginning this Saturday the Westlake Bowl will conduct an instructional program for bantam age boys and girls, 12 years and under.

The program will take the form of a league but will differ in that there will be no record of team wins and losses kept. Emphasis will be placed on individual instruction on the lanes. Progress will be measured by the ability of the individual to raise his average. In this way a youngster who is not progressing with the group will be given added help, proportional to his or her needs.

Through this type of an introduction to bowling, the youngster will be better qualified to participate on a higher level of competition. This should result in more satisfying experiences when they enter a competitive league.

Ora Mayer will direct the instructional phase of the program. He has long been a leading figure in bowling throughout the West and is presently providing instruction for the regular Saturday morning leagues.

The league will bowl two games every Saturday at 10:30 a.m. The last week of league play will be May 28, so as not to interfere with early June vacationers. The league will wind up with a party at the Westlake Bowl, with refreshments, a movie and presentation of awards.

Youngsters may be enrolled in the program by being present at 10 a.m. Saturday, or by writing or telephoning Bob Sexton at the Westlake Bowl in the evening Thursday and Friday or anytime Saturday.

Blood Donors

Two more Daly City-Colma donors to Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank were announced today. They were Richard D. Anderson and Mrs. Ester Day. Anderson was donating there for the fourth time.

Veterans Outpatient Dental Treatment Provisions Explained

When is a veteran entitled to dental treatment under the VA's outpatient program? In answer to frequent questions on this subject, San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer, Floyd D. Granger, today issued the following list of "conditions" which apply:

1) Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service-connected and compensable in degree, may apply at any time and receive as many treatments for these conditions or disabilities as are needed.

2) Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service-connected but not compensable in degree, and which existed at the time of discharge or release from active service, must apply within one year after discharge or release. They may receive treatment only on a one-time completion basis.

3) Those whose service-connected non-compensable dental conditions or disabilities resulted from combat wounds or service injuries, may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed.

5) Those having nonservice-connected dental conditions or disabilities which are found by the VA to be directly related to and aggravating a service-connected condition or disability, may apply at any time and receive as many dental treatments as are needed to alleviate the aggravation.

6) Disabled veterans of World War II or the Korean Conflict who are receiving training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, and who need dental treatment to prevent interruption of training, may apply for needed treatment.

7) Spanish-American War veterans who need dental treatment may apply for and receive it as needed.

The application form is VA 10-2827, available at the Service Office.

Charm School Aide Guest Of SSF Women

The "P.M. Discussion Group" of the South San Francisco Woman's Club met as a newly formed section for the first time at the home of Mrs. Harry Farros, the section's chairwoman. This group met at 8 o'clock and enjoyed hearing Effie Stepphen as guest speaker. Miss Stepphen, an associate director of a local charm school, spoke on posture, stance, walk, hair care and styling. Instead of doing a full-face make up, she chose the new idea of demonstrating her use of cosmetics by making up only the left side of a guest's face providing a real comparison of the ways of using the latest artistic cosmetics.

The hostess served cake and coffee to those attending this first meeting, the Mesdames William Gottenham, Harry Farros, Roy Faverty, Charles Hawkins, F. W. Nichols Sr., and Robert Whitehead. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, April 13th, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Roy Faverty, 505 Eucalyptus avenue, and any member of the South San invited to participate.

+ TEEN TALK +

By Joe Bavaresco

Dear Mr. Bavarasco:

I am 15 years old. I was going steady with a boy for a long time. I broke up with him for a lot of reasons. Now I hear he has told some of his friends and some older kids in school some awful things about me—things that are not true. I'm really worried about my reputation which was a good one, until now. What do I do about it? B. M.

Dear B. M.:

I'm sorry to say that this situation is too often repeated. It is a bad thing, but nonetheless it is true in so many cases. Some people feel that it makes them look that much better to cut down old steadies. He feels if they can rank you, he will be getting even with you for breaking up with him. He has to defend himself. When you broke up with him, you deflated his ego. Now he must build it up again. You have nothing to fear because your real friends know that what he says isn't true and real friends are all that really count. As for his friends, I'm sure they can see through his lies. The more you do to try to correct these lies he tells, the more guilty you will look. Let it flow right off your back and soon he will give up. There's an old Italian saying my father tells: "Male non fa, paoura noravire" which means "Do nothing wrong, and you have nothing to fear."

Dear Mr. Bavarasco:

I am overweight. I am told I have a nice personality, but I was told that I wear the wrong clothes. I usually wear full, flowered skirts. Is this wrong? How are some ways that I can look more attractive? MISS PLUMP

Dear MISS PLUMP:

I consulted Rose De Vaney, a stylist, with your problem. Here are several hints:

1. Wear plain skirts. No full skirts or prints and no bright colors—preferably dark skirts.
2. Dresses should have a vertical pattern—up and down.
3. No pleated skirts.
4. Sheath dark dresses.
5. Plain blouses, no ruffles or lace. This would only accent the overweight problem.
6. Very high heels to make your legs look long and slender. Hose with seams. Without seams, legs tend to appear larger.
7. Wear hair soft, short and waved loose.
8. No costume jewelry at all.
9. Very little make up, but accent make up on eyes.

These are very good hints for any teenage girl or adult woman who is overweight.

CONDUIT means safer wiring

When you are considering electrical wiring, you want the best in safety, value, durability and economy. That's the metallic conduit system.

It is required by law for wiring apartment, commercial and public buildings, and is optional for your home. It securely encases wire in aluminum or steel pipes or raceways. When your architect, builder or electrical contractor recommends conduit, here are his reasons:

SAFETY—All wires are enclosed.

VALUE—When you sell, conduit tells the buyers: This is first-class.

DURABILITY—Trouble-free performance is yours for a longer time.

ECONOMY—No costly re-wiring when you add rooms or new electrical uses. Larger capacity wires are inserted in the conduit to replace the old.

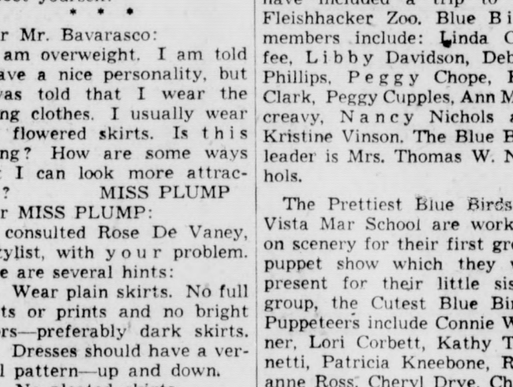
ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY of SAN MATEO COUNTY

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

DO YOU EVER PLAY TRICKS LIKE THIS?



It's the old multiple electric plug game so popular in all too many homes these days! You know—the trick's to see how many plugs you can plug into one another . . . then plug them all into one outlet!

It's a mighty dangerous trick. When you plug in too many appliances, you overload the wire. That makes the wire overheat . . . often start a fire!

Better not play that game.

Better call us for an electrical check-up!

The Story Of U. S. Markets -- Steady Growth, Top Facilities

The growth of the U. S. Markets is another example of American free enterprise at work. Only in the United States could this story occur. Thirty-four years ago this June, Nate Narin, president of the U. S. Markets, started his grocery career. The beginning was small, a 1,500 square foot grocery department in the famous Crystal Palace Market in San Francisco; today U. S. Markets occupy over 300,000 square feet throughout Northern California.

In June of 1948 with James Read, former sales promotion manager of Hagstrom Stores, and Svend Hildebrandt, who has had wide experience in the capacity of financial controller of large chain operations, the Cannery Sales stores were conceived. This entirely new trend in merchandising was highly successful. By 1950 18 stores had been acquired.

The next move was to open supermarkets employing all of the merchandising ideas that had been so successful in the past, together with many new and progressive ideas never before tried. The U. S. Market in San Lorenzo was the first step. The slogan "Home of Unusual Savings" made San Lorenzo the highest volume store per square foot in Northern California. Today, despite ever increasing competition, this store is still a leader. Other U. S. Markets followed in Rodeo, San Jose and South San Francisco. The San Jose store has over 40,000 square feet of selling area, and is one of the largest volume stores in that area.

The headquarters of the U. S. Markets is located in the recently completed modern warehouse of over 80,000 square feet employing modern IBM and warehousing techniques. These new techniques help to facilitate the handling and distribution of merchandise. This is in keeping with the forward thinking of the owners of this growing organization.

Nate Narin has three sons who have helped make the U.S. Markets so successful. Norman, general manager and buyer; Stanley, director of store operations; and Hillel, produce administrator.

The Wholesale Department, under the direction of Irving Abrahams, has salesmen covering all of the large grocery outlets in California, Nevada, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. The Advertising Department is under the direction of Irving Root.

In March of 1960 the U. S. Markets took another giant step forward by acquiring nine of the Hagstrom Super Markets in the East Bay.

Hardware Mutuals Rewards DC Man

William G. Loughner, 174 Crocker avenue, Daly City, representative for Hardware Mutuals of Stevens Point will be honored at his firm's area sales conference, this week at Pebble Beach.

Loughner has been notified that his outstanding production has qualified him for honorary sales club membership. This is the fourth year that Loughner has been a sales leader.

Marine Corps Needs Marines

It's nearly graduation and again the Marine Corps is offering qualified young men an opportunity to work off up to four months of their military obligation while still going to school.

Through the local recruiting office at 6705 Mission street, Daly City, young men can enlist in the Corps and delay actual entry on active duty up to 120 days. Technical Sergeant Daniel J. Coleman says the Marine Corps needs high quality enlistees to bring its strength up to 200,000 men. These are men who can be trained in one of the Corps' 470 specialized occupational fields. There are openings in land, sea and air units of the Marine Corps.

Under the Corps' 120-day delay program, enlistees are able to take mental and physical examinations, be signed into the service and still have to four months to clear up personal matters and graduate from high school. That time counts toward higher pay and faster promotions, the recruiting sergeant says. Any young man interisted in this program should contact Coleman for further information.

Zinc is imported into the United States principally in the form of ores and concentrates.

RICHARD Wilkinson, RCA clerk-messenger, arrives at Penney's of Westlake with a cablegram from France announcing the YWCA's "Special Delivery" Easter fashion show which is to be held at Westlake Bowl this Thursday between 1-3 p.m. It features Penney's spring stylings. Accepting the telegram is Mona Baker, fashion commentator and Marchbanks Publications Radio - TV writer. Looking on are model Mrs. Jean Rivett and Bill Anderson, display manager for the Westlake store.

AT LEGION HALL

'Old Glory' VFW Units Mark 29th Birthday, Fete Pioneers

Old Glory Post No. 2044, V.F.W., and its Ladies Auxiliary will long remember the evening of March 12, on which they honored past commanders and past president's of Old Glory, and celebrated the 29th birthday of the post and its auxiliary.

Featuring a ham and fried chicken dinner, 65 guests had a wonderful evening, enjoying conversation with old friends, and meeting new members. Musical entertainment was conducted under the able leadership of Blaine "Glen" Glendening and his troupe in the American Legion Post 410 Hall, at 374 San Diego avenue.

Ethel Dewitt, First Auxiliary president of Old Glory Post, 1932-1933, presented out-going president Ann Walters with a gardenia corsage and praise from post and auxiliary members.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gehrig of 342 Irvington street were also honored with gifts on the celebration of their 45th wedding anniversary, by the Auxiliary's Senior Citizen, Patricia Fawcett.

Table decorations were artistically and beautifully fashioned under the direction of Emily Porter and her committee — Bonnie Hanson, Lynn Fawcett, Barbara McMahon, and Mary Townsend, all teenagers, who also served the guests, assisted by Commander Weeden's twin daughters, and Patsy Weeden, a high school freshman.

The girls wore green top hats and aprons fashioned after a shamrock, and did an outstanding job.

On the food committee were Ann Walters, Emily Porter and Pat Fawcett. Ann Sender, Ruth Townsend, Marie Weeden, Camille Becket, Catherine Albertus, and Helen Quinn helped with the remainder of the dinner.

New Officers For V-Grande, Thornton PTA

An air of festivity greeted parents and teachers in the multi-use room of Vista Grande School on the evening of March 17 at the regular unit meeting of the Vista Grande-Thtornton PTA. St. Patrick was honored with the decorations on the refreshment table, while other tables contained displays and literature pertaining to the program of health.

Highlighting the business meeting was the election of officers for the coming year, with results as follows: Mrs. T. Lewin, president; Mrs. A. Tiraschi, vice president; Mrs. L. Bostwick, honorary vice president; Mrs. A. Liberato, recording secretary; Mrs. M. Fehl, treasurer; Mrs. J. Radlinski, financial secretary; Mr. T. Lewin, auditor; Mrs. D. Gensel, historian; Mrs. E. The function of health in education was explained by Mrs. G. Casey, school nurse, after which she presented the movie, "School Goes To Town," which depicted how one third grade class studied health during the school year.

Two young baton twirlers of Mrs. Wright's second grade class led other participants to center stage where they demonstrated their health and safety ideals by means of song, skit, and costume.

Concluding the program, Samuel Chandler, Daly City librarian, spoke on the varied information available at the public library and urged all to become more frequent visitors, particularly during "Public Library Week," April 3 to April 9.

STATISTICS SHOW CANCER TOLL HEAVY

Cancer claimed the lives of 507 men, women and children in San Mateo county in 1958, the most recent year in which statistics are available, today reported Cancer Society President Mrs. Edward H. Jonanyan.

Some of the victims came from this community.

"We cite these statistics to inform our residents, not to frighten them, to remind them that none are immune, and all of us must join in the continuing battle to combate cancer and to find its cure," emphasized the president.

Volunteers are still needed here to undertake the all-out door-to-door drive, she stressed. "We can't do it without the kind of cooperation that will enable us to contact virtually every home in the county," said Mrs. Jonanyan.

April traditionally is designated as Cancer Control Month by an Act of Congress and the president. It is the period during which the annual fund and educational drive is conducted.

A total of 632 victims died of cancer in neighboring Santa Clara county in 1958, and 1161 in San Francisco. If the present rate of cancer deaths continue for each community of 4000, 600 will die of cancer; for each community of 10,000, cancer will claim 1500; for a community of 25,000 the toll will be 3750, and for a city of 50,000, cancer will strike down 7500.

"The fighting spirit of Americans has won many a battle in the past, and this is one fight which we are already winning," said Mrs. Jenanyan. "The more people we can reach during our drive, the more funds we will collect, the sooner will the cure for cancer be found."

The quarterly meeting of the Cancer Society was held at the Villa Hotel on Tuesday when state campaign chairman Marshall P. Madison addressed the volunteers.

COLMA'S VOLUNTEER FIREMEN HOST DALY CITY'S SEA SCOUTS

Colma's Volunteer Fire Department recently played host to the Daly City Sea Scouts, comprised of boys from Broadmoor, Colma, Daly City, and the Sunset District. The unit's regular meeting was set aside and the entire ship turned out in full dress at Colma's new firehouse.

Chairman of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Attilio C. Conserva, gave an informative talk on the origin and continued service these volunteers, all local businessmen serving their community, have rendered. Introductions were made to the commissioners, W. Riccomi, T. Kirschner, and E. J. McGuire, secretary to the commission, by Frank De Martini Sr., the ship's institutional representative.

Chief George Bertucci and Assistant Chief E. Lanza, with the help of Fire Marshal August Masini, provided a hot dog feed with trimmings. Other officers and members of the department then showed the scouts through their new firehouse, erected in 1950, which provides space for engine and equipment storage, offices, and a meeting hall equipped with the latest in kitchen and food service facilities.

Volunteer fire officials also taking part in the turnout were Capt. L. Balestra, Lieut. R. Guisti, Lt. N. Schenone, and 2nd Lt. V. Drago. Assistant Fire Marshals are C. Benedetti and K. Collehon, who is also the unit's treasurer.

Basic arrangements for the feed and the ship's visit were handled by M. Cortesi, the Fire Department's social secretary, and W. Ruccomi, recording secretary.

The trucks were "rolled" for the boys, and then the versatility of these two fine new Seagrave pump engines was demonstrated. Equipped with water tanks and a wide variety of hoses, nozzles, and converters, these trucks competently handle any type of fire from a brush blaze to an apartment trained on nearby houses to show their power and help in fire-fighting and in rescue work.

These volunteers, who leave their businesses when an alarm sounds, can respond to a fire within three minutes. The excellent service they render to Garden Village, Broadmoor, Sterling Park and Colma, are attested to by the superior rating given them by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Their leisure hours are filled with training programs, keeping them up to the minute in current techniques.

Pledged to render mutual assistance when called on, Colma's volunteers will turn out to assist Daly City, San Francisco, or any other nearby communities requiring aid or additional equipment.

Colma can indeed be proud of these dedicated volunteers who are so constantly ready to serve all of us locally. Besides the officers already named, the departmental roster includes G. Desperati, J. Molini, G. Christiano, P. Sanguinetti, A. Edgman, J. Freccero, C. Riccomi, J. Luciani, J. Schultz, F. Benoni, and J. Buttons.

Accompanying De Martini was Sea Scout Skipper Jay Irick and the unit's committee chairman, Albert S. Wilson. Trips and visits such as this one, showing the devotion of a group of citizens to their community, keep the eyes of the scouts directed toward the rewards to be gained in working with such projects in their adult years.

"A tremendous vote of thanks is in order for the members of the Colma Fire Department, not just from the sea scouts, but from everyone in the surrounding communities to whose best interests they are so selflessly dedicated," Irick declared.

Police Set Bike Auction

Daly City police will auction off about 23 bicycles on Tuesday morning, March 29, at 10 o'clock in the rear of the City Hall building, 75 Wellington avenue.

The bikes were recovered by the police but their owners could not be found. Most of the bikes are in very good condition.

'WEAR YOUR EASTER BONNET' YWCA'S FASHION SHOW THEME

"Wear Your Easter Bonnet" is the theme of the March YWCA Fashion Show and Luncheon that will be held Thursday, March 24, from 1 to 3 p.m. at Westlake Bowl, 99 Southgate avenue, Daly City.

A novel idea for the show is the way in which the invitations are being sent to the YWCA members via cables. Penney's of Westlake, who are doing the fashions, have contacted their Paris office to send a cable direct to open the show.

R.C.A. Communications of San Francisco are handling the arrangements. This has lent a "special delivery" atmosphere to the show adding excitement to the anticipated Easter fashions.

Mona Baker, who is well known for her weekly T.V., radio, and shopping columns, will be fashion commentator. Mrs. Edward Raymond, who is chairman of the North San Mateo county YWCA Area Committee, is in charge of the show. The other chairmen include Mrs. William Sorensen, Hostess committee; Mrs. Jack Rausch in charge of the models which will include pre-schoolers, subteens, teenagers and adult members of the Y; Mrs. R. James Hummel, decoration; and Mrs. Sam Skloyos, fashions. In keeping with the theme, the show will close with Miss Susan Doelger singing "Easter Parade."

The YWCA extends a sincere invitation to all of their friends to "wear your old and see the new" and join each other in a relaxing afternoon. The cost of the luncheon is $1.75, and reservations can be made by phoning PL 6-7370. Free nursery care is provided for the pre-school children.

4-YEAR-OLD INJURES PAL WITH BB SHOT

Mori James Benveniste, age 5, was shot between the eyes with a BB fired by a four-year-old campanion Tuesday at 11 a.m. last week.

Police Officer David Johnstone was notified of the incident by a Junipero Serra Hospital nurse. The injured boy lives at 60 Royce way.

The accidental "shooting" occurred when the younger boy got hold of his older brother's BB gun. The mother of the four-year-old said that she would see that the gun is locked up and also agreed to pay any medical bills incurred by the victim.

LAW IN ACTION

JURY PROBLEMS

Our constitution promises an accused person a jury trial, but only you—and thousands of people like you—can keep that promise.

Did you ever beg off from jury service? Did it interfere with your work or play? Well "the government" itself can give no one a jury trial—unless free men and women like you take time out to sit down and hear a case, and conscientiously reach a verdict.

The old Greeks held that only a citizen could take part in the administration of justice.

Whether you serve willingly or not, our jury system is up against it in many ways.

How can we improve ways to pick jurors; train them; instruct them in the law of the case they are trying; and weed out the unfit?

Are there no good signs on the horizon? Yes, many a trial lawyer has remarked on one singular fact: Twenty or thirty years ago most jurors were relatively poorly educated. Perhaps had no schooling beyond the fifth or sixth grade. They were mostly men, often rounded up at the last minute in parks and off the street.

In California the average education in the 1950 census was better than ninth grade, and many believe that the new census will show it to be nearly high school graduation.

Such jurors, some lawyers claim, have a sharper eye for relevant facts and may not be so easily swayed as they once were. Besides a large number are women. There are few "professional" jurors these days picked up for the occasion. They are summoned from their work to represent a cross section of the community.

One "soft spot" in our jury system, many think, is the long list of otherwise able people who do not have to serve either because the public welfare demands their services on the job; or because of their work, they may well have formed opinions. Among them are:

Lawyers—their clerks and secretaries; physicians, dentists, and pharmacists. Teachers, professors, clergymen, certain railroad workers, seamen, pilots and steamboat workers, ferryboat men, workers for telephone and telegraph companies.

Certain government people—firemen, national guardsmen and military men, certain attendants at state institutions, mail carriers, jail employees, etc.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Westmoor Students Tour Telephone Company Offices

Business students were given information on equipment, company relations, general commercial personnel, commercial steno pool, and the general accounting steno pool.

Accompanying George Hinkle, commercial department head, were Sandra Arvanites, Joyce Bretthauer, Joan Crosby, Anita Funderburk, Betty Latimer, Susan McVeigh, Claudia Newman, Joyce Rubiales, Jackie Shelton, Judy Zander, Judy Anderson, Susan Burton, Jackie Cullen, Linda Kinkade, Marian Luce, Patricia Ness, Ann Palos, Sandra Rudorfer, Loretta Vinson, Roseann Berg, Jackie Chipps, Sandra Dominguez, Leslie Lane, Joy Mayfield, Barbara Newcomb, Hazel Robinson, Judy Sheary, and Patricia Wright.

Westmoor, Jeff, Come Close In Peninsula Relays

COACH BOB Watt congratulated John Margaroni and Bob Alverio as their Jefferson High teammates selected them track squad captains. Margaroni, a senior, earned his varsity block in track last year. Alverio, a junior, took first place in the cross country races last fall. Alverio was one of four members of the two-mile relay team which took first place at the Peninsula League Relays.

SPORTS SPIN

NO DOUBLE PLAY COMBO, BUT A DOUBLE: Jeff High's baseballers have a pair of twins and there's no use asking "which has the Toni." Steve Mezzera does. He has Tony and Stan Montalbo, two juniors, who may be a determining factor in the Indians' pennant chase. Tony's a first-sacker while Stan figures to do a lot of slab work though he also plays left and catches. Stan compiled a 6-1 pitching record with 2.17 ERA for the Frosh-Soph team last year. Tony broke a few fences while solidifying a .385 batting average.

* * *

THAT LONG CURLY STUFF ISN'T CABBAGE: Tony Giammona invited the Ram varsity basketball team to his home for a spaghetti dinner. The fork wrestlers "ate me out of house and home," Tony squeaked. Incidentally, of the 17 members on the team when the season started there wasn't one with an Italian-sounding name. Maybe Dougherty (Bill) is half Italian?

* * *

KEEP ON THE SONNY SIDE: Whenever someone has a nickname people naturally wonder what the real monicker is. "Sonny" Stoller, league-leading scorer at Jefferson for the lightweights, has the birth certificate name of Rodney. We don't think any of the Westmoor baseballers will laugh at this, do you, Coach Rodney Losberger?

RAMS HAVE TOUGHEST HORNS: Westmoor continues winning practice hardball contests. Quote taken from the San Bruno Herald, via Sports Editor Warren Wyncoop, "Westmoor High is the obvious choice to win the PL baseball race this season." So stand on that Hilltop proudly Rams and try not to let the others knock you off.

STARS OF YASTRDAY: Many onlookers feel that Carl Yastrzemski, rookie second baseman of the Boston Red Sox, will one day be one of baseball's greats. Imagine someone saying "Greats of the past few years were Spahn, Musial, Williams and Yastrzemski." Then too, the Red Sockers could trade him to the Chicago White Sox runners. The White Sox would have to purchase new traveling uniforms. It seems they have their names printed on the back of their uni's. Well, if (Ted) Kluszewski could get his name on the Sox uniform apparently Yastrzemski could too.

ALL RELAY RECORDS BUT TWO-MILE RUN SHATTERED HERE

San Mateo broke six Peninsula League relay records last Friday at Westmoor while walking off with all honors by capturing the varsity, B's and C's meets.

Westmoor and Capuchino cracked two apiece, leaving the two-mile relay mark the only varsity one to withstand the sonic breaking meet.

Westmoor was 17 points behind the Bearcats in second place and Jefferson came in third, edging Capuchino by 5 points.

The Rams frog-type broadjumpers, Tom Dake, Roger Johnson and Mike Smith leaped 60 ft. 8 in. to smash the old record of 55-2 3/4 which was set in 1959 by San Mateo. Individual efforts were Dake, 20-6, Johnson, 20-2 1/2, and Smith, 18-11 1/2.

Ernie Ribera's mile relay men George Herbst, Jim Buccelli, Jim Sershen and Jim Strain, raced to a winning time of 3:28.9 to eclipse the time set last year by Westmoor, 3:32.7. Particularly good were the times of Herbst, 50.6, and Buccelli, 51.4.

Outstanding individuals for the Jeff varsity were: Anibal Davila, Bob Alverio, Joe Reynaga and Joe Vaez who captured first in the two mile relay with an 8:35.5 timing.

Gary Molossi did his best high jump at 6 feet, yet lost out to San Mateo's Terry Llewellyn, 6-4. Broadjumpers Sal Blas and John Margaroni, leaped 20 ft. 3 in. and 20-2, respectively. Bob Nielson and Jim Garuso shot putted 46 9 1/2 in. and 46-4 for their best longevity marks.

BOB NIELSON recorded his best throw with the shot during the recent Peninsula League relays. The Jeff High senior tossed the ball 46 feet, 9 1/2 inches, to rank right behind San Mateo's shot putters who dominated the event.

Westmoor was third in Boys competition while Jeff was sixth. Only 3 1/2 points separated the third through sixth teams.

Westmoor was second in Girls competition with Jeff hanging on for fourth place. Jeff's high jumpers took first place as Tom Glasser, 5-3, George Presley, 5-2, and Tom Gomez, 4-9, recorded some of their better skyjourneys. Corey Patton's 43-0 1/2 hurling in the shot relay was also outstanding for the Indians.

The Rams also set a C's 1/2 mile new timing of 6:20.1 shaving the former quick timing of 6:42.2 which was set by Jeff in 1958. Hurrying harriers were Ballante, Beeler, Clark and Rivas.

Final varsity Peninsula League Relay scores:

San Mateo	82
Westmoor	55
Jefferson	40
Capuchino	35
Burlingame	19
Hillsdale	13
Mills	8

INDIANS DUMPED FIVE TIMES

Mezzera Looks For Holes In Jeff Bats

Jeff High baseball Coach Steve Mezzera must be checking his team's bats to see if there are holes in them.

The Indians have been squelched in their last five games, haven't had more than four hits, and only one extra base blow. If this continues, Tom McEntee may receive a plaque for his double in the Riordan fray. In all, Mezzera's lads have averaged three hits a game getting 15 in the five tilts.

Lincoln measured Jeff, 7-3, on March 4, garnering 7 hits off George Claus who went the pitching route. Claus walked 6 and struck out 2. Tony Montalbo had two runs batted in off his single. The other two hits were stroked by John Souza and Rick Mortola.

Riordan used their own field to advantage, skimming past Jeff, 5-1, on March 8. McEntee was the losing hurler though pitching a creditable game. He allowed but 2 hits and K'd 4 but 6 walks did the damage. His two base bash was one of four hits. Claus, Mortola and Bobby With had singles.

Saint Ignatius waltzed past Jeff, 6-1, on March 9. Don Staff was tabbed the losing hurler, allowing 5 hits and 8 walks. He struck out 3. He collected one of Jeff's three hits, being joined by Mortola and J. B. Berry.

Sacred Heart, San Francisco AAA favorite, had trouble solving the right handed slants of Stan Montalbo but edged the Indians, 1-0, on March 10. Montalbo's tight fisted hurling was far and away the best slab work thus far this year for Jeff. He walked 2, struck out 1 and gave up but 3 hits. Ralph Bertania, classy Irish pitcher, was the winner. Bertania gave up three hits in 6 innings. Sacred Heart scored the only run in the fifth inning, a single and Billy Moe's triple being the crowning blow.

University of Calif ornia's JV's pounded 10 hits off Staff's fastballs to rack up an 8-1 win, March 15. Staff walked 3 and whiffed 3. He had two bad innings, the fourth, when Cal scored 5 times, and the sixth, when the host team tallied 3 more. Claus and Ed Crowley had the two hits for the local nine.

RECORD SETTER FANUCCHI HAS LEG INJURY

John Fanucchi, who set a new pole vault record at Jeff High in C division competition against Lincoln with a 10-foot leap, was seriously injured over the weekend.

Fanucchi jumped with the varsity vaulters in the Peninsula League relays and though his 10 feet was not outstanding for a performer in this class, he again tied the Jeff High B's mark and tied his own record for the C's.

Last weekend the 15-year-old sophomore was painting a boat when the chain holding the propeller broke. The prop crushed his leg. Extent of Fanucchi's injuries was not disclosed. He is currently at Saint Mary's hospital and surgery may be necessary.

Coach Bob Watt said the young vaulter "will be sorely missed by the coaching staff and his teammates."

MILLER, LAWLER, JONES TO COACH

Floyd Gonella Heads PE Department at Oceana

A wave of Jefferson High District teachers will make the move to Oceana next fall, including four coaches.

Floyd (Tiny) Gonella will be the PE Department Head and varsity football and track coach though the youngsters will only be playing on the Junior Varsity level.

. . . Floyd Gonella

Also from Westmoor, making the transfers, will be Roger Miller, who will take over the baseball reins, and Frank Lawler, who will become lightweight basketball mentor.

From Jefferson is Jesse Jones, who will assist Gonella in football and track and will be the head wrestling coach.

Gonella noted that a head basketball coach is yet to be chosen. "He will be chosen by the central office and will probably be from outside the district," he noted.

When the Oceana and Terra Nova High School splits are made the coaches may go en masse or might be split 50-50, Gonella added. He estimated that these schools will not start a varsity schedule for another two years, gathering strength so as to be on a level with competitive teams.

His JV footballers will play one game each against Jeff and Westmoor next fall. He will also schedule two other contests for the Pacificans. "We will have a highly concentrated program for intramural sports," he commented.

Gonella hopes to build a strong core for his JV team and named Manuel Pick, center, and Dennis Caruthers, halfback, of Westmoor's frosh team last year, as the main men. He also singled out Ram JV star, end Dewey Melton and inexperienced, but strong, halfback Jim Buckner.

Gonella, 26, lives at 115 Vale street, Daly City. He was assistant to head football coach Pete Matisi last fall and is currently working with the Westmoor shot putters and discus men. He coached JV football and basketball at San Francisco State and was a part time PE instructor in 1956.

Miller, 28, lives at 224 Dundee drive, South San Francisco, and coaches the Westmoor frosh baseballers. He also coached the JV football team.

Lawler, 28, lives in San Bruno and is currently helping Westmoor Varsity coach Rod Losberger in baseball. He played basketball and baseball at San Francisco State.

Jones, 27, lives in San Mateo and is aiding head track Coach Bob Watt at Jefferson. He also helped Joe McGrath with the varsity wrestlers.

Gonella has been at Westmoor for three years while Miller, Lawler and Jones will be closing out their second come June.

Floyd said the head basketball coach would probably be selected "within a couple months."

Holy Angels Cub Softballers Win

Undefeated Holy Angels Bee team of Cub Pack 261 defeated Westlake Cub Pack 63 last Saturday in softball at Aptos diamond, 27-18.

Varni and Mike Stark shared pitching chores for the winners. Bags-loaded homers by Tommy Dennis and Gene Dal Porto were the big blows for Holy Angels.

Rams Edged 2-1; Fumble SFS JV Contest, 8-5

Westmoor's baseballers lost their first two games of the young practice season, being edged by Acalanes, 2-1, and tossing away an 8-5 decision to San Francisco State last week.

Bob Goodwin, almost entirely recovered from a case of poison oak, was touched with a different kind of poison, five hits and two runs in the Acalanes game. He pitched five innings and struck out two while walking none. Barry Krohn tossed the final two frames, giving up two walks while striking out four.

Acalanes got off to a one-run lead, Bill Brekke homering in the bottom of the first. Terry (Doubles) Christman banged his third double in six games to chase across Tom McHugh who had walked in the top of the second. A triple by Hank Jones almost went for nought for Acalanes as Rich Morales' relay throw just missed picking him off 1st plate after a short single.

An infield collapse caused the Rams to fumble away the San Francisco State JV encounter. Usually steady fielders, third baseman Billy Hix and second baseman Jim Heick, made a total of six miscues — four for Hix, two for Heick.

Ram Coach Rod Losberger moaned: "It was our worst defensive game but we were due for one. Maybe now we've got it out of our system. We usually don't make any errors."

McHugh powered a 420-foot triple in the third inning but nobody was aboard. The Rams did make a comeback of sorts, scoring four runs in the sixth inning to pull up at 5-6. Two of the Gators' four errors came in that hectic inning, along with singles by Walthard, Heick and Bill Reynolds and a walk to Kron. Heick was cut down at the plate while attempting to score the tying run on Reynolds' infield single.

Christman pitched four innings, being charged with only two earned runs of the five he gave up. However, he did surrender nine hits while walking four and whiffing six. Katona allowed two hits over his two-inning stint. Only one of the three runs he gave up was earned.

Miller Continues Fine Firing For Indian JV Nine

Bob Miller may prove the class of the JV Peninsula League. On March 15, he pitched no hit ball for 6 2/3 innings before surrendering a single to a Galileo batter. He promptly struck out the next man.

The Lions picked up a run in the eighth inning, an extra frame, off two walks and a single to hand Mike Rovai the Jeff loss, 1-0.

However, Coach Harry Vaplon is most enthused over the work of Miller. Miller had gone 10 2/3 innings without surrendering a bingle before the Galileo swatsman got at him. He struck out 6 Lions and walked 4.

Vaplon called the tilt "well played." Rovai and Rich Reitz had 2 hits apiece while Al Cacicideo had one. The Vaplonese team didn't commit an error while Gal had two.

There are three more practice games before league festivities begin.

The California Wine Association, with headquarters in San Francisco, was established in 1929.
